THE GAZETTE.

SATUR AY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 13.

First Time He'd Tried a Wife John G. Discsway lounged in the office of his lumber yard in West Houston street yeeterday afternoon and related the exerience that has just convinced him that marriage hont three weeks ego he ran away with and married Miss Gertrude Smock, 17 years old, of Red Bank, Young Mrs. Disnaway's widowed mother blessed the eloping couple as soon as she learned of the marriage, and Mr. Disosway took rooms for bluself and wife at the De Forrest House to R d Bank. What followed was described thus by Mr Disosway yesterday:

"I had heard a greet many rumors about my wife before the marriage, but no one would tell me anything definite. Afterward every one wanted to tell me everything and I kept my ears wide open. I found that about a month before she married me she had gone to Fair Haven with Al. Burrowes, a young man of 20, and had tried to be married to him, but the minister had refused to perform the ceremony. She was also said to be engaged to another young man when she became my wife. I came to the city every day on busines, and while I was away she was out with Burrowes. I thought I'd just give her all the rope she wanted, so I told her a week ago I was going to Canada to buy lumber. She wanted to go to Asbury Park, and I gave her a horse and carriage and a nigger, and she went. I came to New York-never thought of going to Canada at all."

Young Burrowes went to Asbury Park, too, and Mrs. Disosway and her old lover were together almost constantly. They came to Brooklyn last Friday, and on Saturday Mr. Disosway received this note :

Mr. J. G. Disosway:

Al and I are stopping at the Grand Hotel, Church, near Fulton street, Brooklyn, registered as Mr. J. A. Smock and wife, of Matteswan. Please GERTRUDE. send me $100.

Mr. Disosway went to the Grand Hotel with a friend on Saturday night, saw the names of Mr. Smock and wife on the register, and told the clerk about them. The young couple were sent from the hotel, and on Monday Mr. Disosway published a notice that he had sued his wife for divorce, and would pay no debts of hers. Yesterday, having located his wife in a Brooklyn hotel, he served on her papers in a suit for absoluted in the suit for absolute divorce. "I'm not pining much," said Mr. Disosway

He is a member of the Hanover Club of Brocklyr, and is prosperous. He is only 34 years old, yet is very reluctan, he says, to try another Mrs. Discowsy.—N. Y. Sun

Publishes in condensed but comprehensive form news from all parts of the world, and only lays before its readers an epitome of whatever is sold on around them.

THE GAZETTS enjoys unsurpassed facilities for procuring and their ways, and that, too, often twelve hours carlier than the morning papers, its telegraphic columns being kept open till late each evening in order to receive the very latest dispatches, so that whatever may occur, wheth-patches, so that whatever may occur, whether in this or other lands, is almost more to find its way into its columns the same day.

Its correspondence in newsy and accurate, and its miscellaneous department is conducted with an eye to the entire stamment and plassage of its roaders, and no wides are spared to make it attractive in every feature.
